

AMSC/MATH 420, 2nd Project 3, SPRING 2015

Oral Presentation Due: TBD, 2015

Written Presentation Due: TBD, 2015

In this project you are to use a new classification method called Support Vector Machine for the problem of classifying the handwritten digits dataset. The project work includes development of appropriate settings for fair comparison of this new classification method with the methods discussed and used so far.